

Southern League AA Affiliate of the Milwaukee Brewers
1985, 1994 & 2001 Southern League Champions

Dear Mr. Clemens:

As longtime fans of yours, we appreciate everything you've done for the game of baseball and the memories that you have provided fans across the globe.

We understand that you have an agreement with the Houston Astros organization and wish you much success in the future. However, if your situation changes and you are willing to relocate to the North Alabama area we would like to offer you the opportunity to join our staff.

We are the Double-A Affiliate of the Milwaukee Brewers and are located in Huntsville, Alabama. Thanks to the Marshall Space Flight Center and Huntsville's relationship with NASA, Huntsville is known as "The Rocket City."

With the impending retirement of the current Space Shuttle system in 2010 and the introduction of the new Orion/ARES rocket, we think this gives us an excellent opportunity to present a new mascot here in Huntsville.

We have already designed a new logo for the Huntsville Stars that now includes a rocket (top of page). Since everybody this side of Venus knows you as the 'Rocket,' we would like to offer you the position of our team's official secondary mascot, 'Rocket.' As 'Rocket,' you will dress as an astronaut and simply interact with fans and assist in on-field promotions during our 70-game home schedule when the primary mascot, Homer the Polecat, is not available.

We firmly believe that you would be a great addition to our organization and are willing to move forward in the negotiation process as soon as possible. Although the position isn't the most lucrative in Minor League Baseball, we will guarantee that you'll have the most fun of any team with which you've been employed. In addition to your $25 per game, you will receive meal vouchers redeemable at the concession stands for one hotdog and one soft drink each night, and a 15% employee discount at our team's souvenir store, The Backstop Shop.

The opportunity to be a part of the city of Huntsville/Madison County family is also rewarding. As a recent transplant myself, I can attest to being welcomed like a long-lost family member. You will certainly be embraced by the local population as everybody here is warm and friendly.

Please let us know if your situation changes and if you're interested about joining our staff.

Best wishes in 2008!
